Whip around the room asking students to share their ideas and write them on the board.

Discussion/Notes: Ask students the following questions to get a feel for their knowledge on poverty and tie to their intro responses:

- What does poverty look like in America? Poverty looks like anyone who lacks sufficient money or goods to meet basic human needs such as food, shelter, clothing
- Who lives in poverty? Adults, teens, children...48 million living below the poverty level
- Where do we see poverty? Everywhere....It's a worldwide epidemic...let's look at our state. Complete the "What do you think # activity" first. Then go over actual PA stats. You can find all states information at this website. http://www.spotlightonpoverty.org/about\_spotlight.aspx
- How do people end up living in poverty? A number of ways/reasons... View and write down as many reasons as you can based on this clip <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=81iZZF5lx4k>

Answers may include:

- Education Level such as secondary and post-secondary degrees often determines type of job you have qualifications for as does experience in the field, lack specific skills
- Family Structure can play a role too especially if you are a single parent, or a one income family, number of children
- Geographical Location often determines cost of living, taxes, affordable housing, or number of industry or jobs in area. Ex. Rural vs. urban vs. city.

- Unemployment due to loss of job from down-sizing, closures, furloughs, etc. Many have stopped looking/applying because they can't find anything.
- Never Ending Cycle for some means they were born into poverty and do not have the means to escape
- Can you be employed and still be living at the poverty level? Absolutely! View any one of the following YouTube clips as an example:

- Discuss reactions.

Discuss: Is it easy to budget a paycheck and meet all of your weekly/monthly expenses?

First, let's generate a list of all possible expenses and write them on the board (this will vary based on the specifics of each family): food, toiletries, housing, utilities, health care, medical/prescriptions, transportation, child care, clothing, laundry, taxes, insurance, household items, education, miscellaneous things like internet, cable, phones/cell plans, subscriptions, pets, emergencies.

Activity: Turn to your neighbor and decide which of the above expenses are truly essential and necessary and which are non-essential extras. Have each group share and try to come to a class consensus. Was it easy to decide? What criteria did you use to determine each?

Simulation: All of you will participate in the online simulation/game about surviving poverty and homelessness. It is called SPENT: <http://playspent.org/>

Overview of Game: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=d7T5x6nOIWQ>

Assignment: Your goal is to play this game and then write a summary of your results. The summary should include...

- Progress throughout the simulation...did you make it through the month? If not, how far did you get?
- What sacrifices or cuts did you have to make? How did you feel about making these cuts?
- What was the most difficult decision you had to make in this simulation? Why?
- Did you have power over your decisions? Explain.
- What budget expenses from the class list actually showed up in the simulation?
- What did you learn from this simulation?
- What can you do now, for your future to reduce your chances of living paycheck to paycheck, in poverty or becoming the working poor? Explain in a one page paper the personal and professional goals you wish to set for yourself including a realistic timeline.
